Re: MEIDINGER, Donald
File #3582

To Whom It May Concern:

Don returns and the left knee continues to be bothersome. He feels posteromedial pain which sometimes becomes quite significant. Nevertheless he is tolerating work. There is no locking or giving way.

We have discussed the risks, benefits and alternatives with the patient including the risk of infection, neurovascular injury, deep venous thrombosis, anesthetic reaction, possible recurrent tear, possible inability to completely relieve all pain. The patient understands. He will contemplate the surgery. I will see him back in 1 month. He is to continue work full duty.

Sincerely,

Darryl W. Kitayama, M.D.
