Response to Request for Assistance

Thank you for your letter of 12 December 2013 requesting assistance from the Central Valley Regional Water Quality Control Board. You state that there are several hazardous conditions at the San Joaquin County Mosquito and Vector Control District that could affect the health and safety of employees and potentially the surrounding environment.

My staff received a similar complaint from you in early September 2013, via the CalEPA online environmental complaint system. Upon investigating, staff determined that your concerns are related to the use of hazardous materials and the safety of the District's employees. The Water Board does not have jurisdiction in this area. We also found that your complaint had been sent to other state agencies, including the Department of Pesticide Regulation and the Department of Toxic Substances Control. I understand that the Department of Toxic Substances Control forwarded the complaint to Kasey Foley of the San Joaquin County Environmental Health Department. Ms. Foley can be reached at kfloey@sjcehd.com or at (209) 468-3451.

I suggest that you follow up with the County Environmental Health Department or with the San Joaquin County Agricultural Commissioner (Scott Hudson) at 209-953-6000. You may also contact Nancy Lancaster with the State Department of Toxic Substances Control at (916) 255-3645.

Sincerely,

Pamela C. Creedon
Executive Officer
