

I need to know if our association requires employees to pay union dues while on comp and what the law says. If I owe the association money I will pay. Deanna needs to stop paying for me until we get this issue resolved.

Take care Tiffany

From: Tiffany Anderson <tiffanykayanderson@yahoo.com>
To: Bob Phibbs <Bob@PhibbsLaw.com>
Sent: Friday, January 20, 2012 8:40 PM
Subject: Union Dues

Dear Bob,

First off Adam came through with my deposition. I felt strong. The attorney who attended said I did good.

The subject of my union dues has never been addressed. I have a book from the State Comp Board that states injured workers are not required to pay dues. In theory we already have to pay for representation for your injury. At the same time the injured worker does not receive any raise increases or benefits while your absent. Now maybe the associate wants the injured worker to pay anyway, but I want to ensure this is a legal request. On the same vein If I am going to be the topic of any meeting I would like to present or I would appreciate my business being discussed. I am willing to attend a meeting and try to explain as well as show the docents I received from the workcomp board so employees are informed and not spreading misinformation. I hope you enjoyed the holiday. Take care. Tiffany Anderson

I would appreciate the union reps not discuss my personal information with their biased and uninformed information Spread throughout my place of employment. Before statements are made they need to be informed what state law says with regards to dues for the injured worker.

Sent from my iPhone