Fwd: August 29, 2011

7/18/11 After visiting Dr. Eck who was paid by the District and again unreported to AIMS the Districts insurance carrier I was sent away with my symptoms ignored.The symptoms I stated were I called in sick the next 4 days and took it upon myself to see my own doctor who prescribed antibiotics. Four days of my accrued time, time that has now been used against me on my most current evaluation.

My symptoms have ranged from sore throat, nausea, hot flashes, cold chills, open wounds in my mouth under my tongue,headache, fever, dizziness, pain in my lymphatic system, neck, arms, shoulders. These symptoms have persisted since Monday July18, 2011 and have not subsided. You state that a second DWC form is not necessary although it contradicts the State Comp Board recommendation. I am seeing Dr. Murata who is a orthopedic surgeon. Dr. Murata does not deal with the symptoms mentioned above.

What concerns me the most of all that has transpired is the verbiage both you and Eddie have used in regard to my injury. Referring to it as a mere scratch. It was an open wound to my right knee that started from the bottom scar from my post surgical wound. The wound was 18 cm in length. I had a bruise from the front of my ankle all the way up to my thigh. Dr. Eck would not know this because my pants could only fold up to my knee.I was not asked by the doctor to put on a gown so he could see the full extent of the injury, along with protocol of having a nurse in the room to witness the examination. Of course it is my opinion it was only his job to get me out of his office as fast as he could.

I do not need you to clarify to me the terminology of a claim assignment and an accepted claim. I understand fully. I understand you have not followed protocol when it comes to reporting injuries to your insurance company. I understand you had no full intentions of accepting my claim.

Regarding past claims and compensation in regards to my exposure cases I never asked for gas money reimbursement I never received a settlement and the majority of the time off for those claims were taken from my sick bank, which later were used against me on my evaluations.

I did receive UNUM documents from Emily, please tell her thank you.

In regards to any discussions between you and I as I stated to Michelle Morgan over the phone the day I informed her I wanted to file the DWC for the illness but I wanted her to tell you, you scare me. Thank you for offering to be available but if you, Eddie or I have any communication I would like the presence of my representative.

SIncerely,

Tiffany Anderson
