Tiffany I received your voicemail and email today. I have already called and left you a return voicemail but thought I would follow up with an email.

I feel the need to respond to this email. In your wording you make it sound as if I made threats to you. Those are harsh and inaccurate accusations

First off, if you truly believe I threatened you in any way, please keep a copy of the phone message I left, just in case this is brought up again.

I was unaware that you were on vacation or that you were sick. It had been four weeks since I had been placed on modified duty by Dr. Murata without accommodations by my employer.

In the message I left for you that you deemed threatening, my words were this: Mackenzie I am keeping an excel spreadsheet of the dates and times I call you or send emails without hearing a response to show in court if necessary. I respectfully disagree that my statement was threatening, but yet an act of accountability and the only power I have over my circumstances.

I don't find it appropriate that you are making threats against me for not being responsive as I have kept you up to date on the status of your claim thus far. I was out ill and on vacation last week which is why it has taken me a couple of days to get back to everyone.

I apologize for going over your head and speaking to your supervisor. In my defense the many attempts I made to my employer regarding the Injured Worker Salary Continuation and to AIMS is less than I would be receiving from my debtors if I did not take action.

I also know that you called this morning and spoke to Kim here who did discuss your claims with you as well. I have also been informed that you have already contacted my attorney Eric Helphrey as well. To update

I received a letter from Eric Helphrey yesterday, please note I am self represented and do not forward any further correspondence to Mr. Stein's office.

I am currently waiting for an updated wage printout from the district to calculate payments for you and am assured that I will have that tomorrow morning. As I indicated in my voicemail if you have any questions please feel free to contact me at 916-563-1900 X 242. Thanks Mackenzie D. Dawson Sr. Claims Examiner Aims Claims 916-563-1900

Mackenzie,

I am truly sorry you were sick, what a crummy way to spend a vacation. I am sorry for the extra stress. I hope you enjoy the flowers, and have a nice day.

Sincerely,
Tiffany Anderson
