I will reschedule the QME evaluation in the next few days.

I do not know if those injuries have been accepted or denied at this time. The time frame is 90 days from the date of the application.

I will see. However I am recommending the claims be denied pending Dr. Allems' opinion. If he then finds injury due to chemical exposure then liability most likely would be accepted.

I need to review where we are with documents but will review early next week.

I will provide you with ample time to get everything together for Dr. Allems.

Sorry it has been a very hectic last few weeks.

Kyle
