Dear Ms. Anderson:

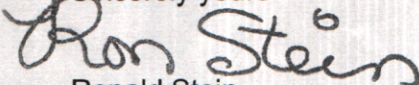

Attached hereto is a print-out of the medication you are presently taking (some may be the generic name of the medication). Please review the side effects of these medications and let this office know if you suffer from any of the mentioned side effects. Please put an (X) beside every side effect you have from the medications and return the forms to this office.

If you do suffer from any of the side effects, we can amend your claim to add those side effects. You are entitled to be treated and ultimately compensated for any side effect of the medication, which results in an impairment of activities of daily living and/or end organ damage.

Also, if you have become less active physically since your injury and or have gained weight since your injury, it is important to let this office know. Also we want you to ask your treater to send you to an internist so that you can have an exercise stress test and a pulmonary function test to determine if you have any disruption of your activities of daily living or a reduction in your capacity to function. If so, you would be entitled to be treated under the workers compensation case.

Also an internist or other specialist, can determine if you are suffering from any end organ damage from the side effects of the medication either taken individually or in combination with other medication, you are taking for the industrial injury and/or for non industrial problems. I would also ask your doctor to send you for a neuro-psych evaluation, if you believe that the medicine has had an adverse effect on your cognitive ability.

Sincerely yours

Ronald Stein
