I chose the adventure. It will take a bit of planning. But I am excited to get away from town.

I would love to. I have been thinking about you a lot but I am taking care of business. Major aunt trauma the week of finals. I broke down and said fuck it I can't take anymore. Now that my head has been reattached I am having to do more than I would of if I could of just pulled it together. I couldn't.

When do you propose we meet? You were on my list but its a long one. Ill bump you to the top.

Thanks for the opportunity to see you in person to say goodbye.
