Dear Dr Jasti I have been home for the past three days Wednesday the 7th, Thursday the 8th and today Friday the 9th. I tried getting ready this morning but am still having a lot nausea so I decided to stay home. Would you please write me an excuse from work for these three days. If you need to see me today I will come. I was planning on getting the flu shot but I have had a cold for the past 11 days. So I was waiting for that to go away. I met with the phyciatrist and the pain PHD. I really enjoyed the phyc. evaluation. The Dr not so much. But he informed me he was leaving. Among a ton of meds I was perscribed a workbook on anxiety. I ordered one for my daughter and one for myself can't wait to get started in that.
